

In the New Earth.....

Love is the absence of fear;

All humans and other life forms, plants, animals, minerals and the Earth Mother herself are all equal and consciously known to be part of the same One;

Humans fear neither themselves nor others and truly treat one another with honor and respect, regardless of race, creed, skin color, religion or sexual persuasion;

There is no hierarchy of power and control, but there must be leadership; the wisest ones provide benevolent structure and form as One Mind, knowing what serves the one must also serve the all, and what serves the all must also serve the one;

Positions of leadership are earned by passing the challenges of life experience rather than bought with money or influence or taken by force;

Lies, deceit and manipulation cannot take root and grow; in the light of love and truth they will be immediately seen for what they are and not indulged;

Each person takes responsibility for his or her own thoughts, words and deeds and how they manifest into experience;

Boundaries, personal and collective, are respected and honored;

The concept of punishment no longer exists; it is replaced by simply experiencing the consequences of one's own actions;

Life is honored and supported, rather than death and destruction. Health, education, fruitful abundance and sustainability for all are primary goals;

All work is equally valued and all exchange units are constant. Everyone who works will be able to live from the exchange of that work;

People in the same or similar occupations work together to create uniform standards in the delivery of products and services, rather than against each other in competition;

Concepts such as loans and credit cards with interest do not exist, as the drive to compete with and profit from one's fellows is not present;

The thought form of "get rich quick" no longer prevails, so there is no stock market or gambling in any form.

There are no jobs for lawyers. The laws, or boundaries, are clearly stated without room for "interpretation." People take responsibility for their own actions, so the reasons for lawsuits are no longer present. Conflicts are mediated by the wise leadership;

The gift of free will is fully honored and people are free to exercise their full free will in any way they choose. Everyone is aware, though, of the responsibility that goes along with the gift;

There are challenges, individual and collective, in the New Earth, as such is the way of evolution and growth. Challenges are addressed and overcome from a place of One Mind, One Heart, supporting the highest fulfillment of all.

There is no separation between the spiritual and the worldly; all spiritual paths and practices are honored and "life" itself is considered to be a spiritual experience.
